

In accordance with the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education's (ACCME) Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education, Optum Health Education (OHE) requires those in control of educational content to disclose their financial relationships with ineligible companies* within the prior 24 months. Individuals must disclose all financial relationships with ineligible companies*, regardless of the amount and regardless of their view of the relevance of the relationship to the education.

* Ineligible companies are defined by the ACCME as companies whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing health care products used by or on patients. For specific examples of ineligible companies, visit accme.org/standards.

Relevant financial relationships will be disclosed by OHE to the audience of the activity:

ACCME Defined Terms*Ineligible Company

Ineligible companies are defined by the ACCME as companies whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing health care products used by or on patients.

Financial Relationships

Examples of financial relationships include employee, researcher, consultant, advisor, speaker, independent contractor (including contracted research), royalties or patent beneficiary, executive role, and ownership interest. Individual stocks and stock options should be disclosed; diversified mutual funds do not need to be disclosed. Research funding from ineligible companies should be disclosed by the principal or named investigator even if that individual's institution receives the research grant and manages the funds.

Relevant Financial Relationships

The ACCME focuses on financial relationships with ineligible companies in the 24-month period preceding the time that the individual is being asked to assume a role in the development of activity content. The ACCME has not set a minimal dollar amount for relationships to be significant. The ACCME defines "'relevant' financial relationships" as financial relationships in any amount occurring within the past 24 months that creates a conflict of interest.

Conflict of interest circumstances create a conflict of interest when an individual has an opportunity to affect activity content about products or services of an ineligible company with which he/she has a financial relationship.
